Song of Lamentation

Hearts Cry Out, the Rev. Kerri Meyer

O Creator your world cries out to you
It hurts everywhere, everywhere, everywhere
O Creator our hearts cry out to you
God in your mercy, receive our prayer

O Creator your church cries out to you
It hurts everywhere, everywhere, everywhere
O Creator our hearts cry out to you
God in your mercy, receive our prayer

An aerial photograph of a winding river or stream cutting through a dark, textured landscape. The river is a light brown color, contrasting with the dark, almost black, surrounding terrain. The landscape appears to be a mix of sand, silt, and small patches of green vegetation. The river flows from the upper left towards the lower right, with several meanders.

Thanks be to you O God!
Hope is deeper,
Thanks be to God!
